RECEPTION AT WHITE HOUSE

One of the Most Brilliant Ever Witnessed in History of the Nation

Washington, Jan. 8—The initial hospitality of the White House social went down into the annals of the the Executive Mansion as one of the most brilliant affairs in history, as well as the largest reception ever held there, With a distinguished President and a charming bride as hosts, and the Latin American representatives of powerful republics as the guests of honor, a unique interest attached to the occasion such as scarcely occurs in a decade of official entertaining. The reception last evening served a triple part in closing the visit of the distinguished Latin-Americans, ushering into the Capital the real social season of 1916 and inaugurating the new social regime at the White House.

More than 4,000 guests assembled in the historic East Room, including distinguished visitors from twenty republics of the Western Hemisphere, as well as a brilliant gathering from the diplomatic representatives of the Latin American countries, the official, the army and navy set, and the residential circles of the Capital.

RUSSIANS ON THE OFFENSIVE

Czar's Reorganized Armies Drive Germans Back Toward Kovel

STUBBORN FIGHTING

Envelopment of the Kaiser's Hosts at Pinsk the Possible Objective of the Muscovites

London, Jan. 8.—Fierce fighting on a 20-mile front along the bond of the River Styr is reported in dispatches from both Petrograd and Vienna today.

The Russians are assailing the Austrian lines fifty miles east of the important railway town of Kovel objective of the offensive in Volhynia. Petrograd reported today that, after capturing the town of Czartorysk the Slavs pressed on and captured a range of hills west of the town. They are now assailing the main heights barring the advance on Kovel.

The fighting in this region has temporarily detracted attention from the struggle northeast of Czernowitz and along the Tarnopol-Trembowa line, where nearly a million men with several thousand guns are reported to be engaged.

This is true mainly because the possibilities of an important military success are greater in the offensive east of Kovel than at any other point in the struggle.

Capture of Kovel by the Russians would cut the railway supplying the Austro-Germans in the fortresses of Luzk and Dubno, and threaten the envelopment of the Germans around Pinsk.

At Rafalovka and Kolki, the extreme ends of the battle front along the Styr and west of Czarterysk, in the center, and the heaviest fighting is proceeding. Vienna advices today admit the ferocity of the Russian attacks, but declares that in each instance where the Savs made gains the lost ground was later recaptured.

No early decisive successes for the new Slav offensive is expected here, the strength of the Austro-German defenses being well known. It is considered likely, however, that a continuation of the heavy Russian attacks will delay the beginning of an Austro-Bulgarian-German invasion of Greece by preventing the transfer of troops from the Russian front.

Some idea of the determined nature of the Russian blow on the Bessarabian front is conveyed by Petrograd dispathes, which state that the Russians for fifty hours concentrated 400 guns on the Austrians positions at Czernowitz as a preparation for an infantry attack. The Russian communications do not yet say Czernowitz has fallen, but dispatches from German sources admit their position there is critical.

All of the Russian operations thus far revealed are being pressed along the railway lines, which simplify the problems of the winter supply of food ammunition and fuel.

Turned on Stopcock, Although Father Had Rigged Up Safety Device

MOB SETS FIRE TO OHIO TOWN

Torch Applied at East Youngstown After Pistol Duel

ARRIVAL OF MILITIA

Over One Million Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed and Stores and Saloons Looted.

Youngstown, Ohio, Jan. 8—Twenty two hundred State troopers today took charge of the steel strike situation in East Youngstown, where rioting last night caused at least one death.

Thirty-seven were injured, and property damage is estimated at $1,000,000. Practically the entire business district is in ruin.

Youngstown, Ohio, Jan. 8—Following a riot and pistol battle last night at the plant of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Works, whose union employes are out on strike, a mob applied torches to buildings in the neighborhood, and at a late hour the whole business section of East Youngstown was threatened with destruction.

The local authorities, declaring the situation beyond their control, called upon Governor Willis for military protection.

The trouble began early in the evening, when a mob of 6,000 men and women attacked nonunion workers leaving the plant.

The private police force of the mill was lined up on a bridge across the river leading to the main works of the plant. Someone in the crowd threw a rock which struck one of the mill guards. Immediately several of the guards drew their revolvers and fired to scare the crowd. Then the real trouble started. Revolvers were produced by men in the crowd and answering shots were sent back. The guards answered by firing into the crowd. Men and women, wounded, fell amid the rain of bullets. Nineteen were wounded, several probably fatally.

The fighting spread through the streets of East Youngstown, and finally the mob, to vent its frenzy, took to firing buildings.

The Sheriff Umstead, with Adjutant General Hough and other National Guard officers, went to East Youngstown and was attacked by a mob. Red pepper was thrown in the Sheriff's eyes and he was badly beaten.

The fire companies which attempted to check the flames in the business district were beaten off by the mob Many shots were fired, but the firemen got back safely to Youngstown.

The first place fired was the two-story office building of the sheet and tube plant. While the flames were roaring into the air the torch was applied to another building, a small one-story house.

Not satisfied with this exhibition of its fury, the mob turned to the business section. Part of the mob entered the saloon of Newman and McGrattan and after looting the place and distributing the liquor among the frantic foreigners in the crowd, set fire to the place.

When the flames had spread to the Kauffmann Bros.' Clothing store and Michael Monahan's jewelry store the whole crowd took a hand in the looting. Clothing and jewelry were taken from the stores and distributed through the crowd.

Firemen summoned from Youngstown arrived on the scene, but before they could get the hose connected up with the city hydrant the crowd drove the fire-fighters away. Many shots were fired and the firemen drove off with their apparatus amid a perfect hail of stones.

By this time the flames had communicated to the three- story building occupied by Renner's store and threatened to sweep through the entire business section. The infuriated crowd surged through the streets and threats were made to burn the entire town.

All available guards were marshaled by the Sheet and Tube Company and by other mills in thesurburb in an effort to prevent destruction of their property.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 8—Two regiments of Ohio National Guards, the Fifth and Eighth, comprising a total of approximately 1,600 men, were last night ordered by Governor Willis to proceed at once to Youngstown for service in connection with the suppression of disorders that have grown out of the strike of steel workers.

At the same time the Fourth Regiment of Columbus, was ordered to mobilize.

GERMAN PEACE PLANS

Would Placate France, Prussia and Japan in Order to Fight England Alone

Paris, Jan. 8—A radical change in the German strategy has already begun to take effect in the Balkans.

The change is indicated by reports reaching Paris from Switzerland which are credited in many quarters here.

Prince Hohenlohe, disguising his identity with the title "Count Kraft" is the kaiser's chief commissioner with Prince von Buelow in Switzerland.

They are working for a separate peace with France and Russia, which would leave Germany's hands free to combat Great Britain's steadily growing military strength.

Prince Hohenlohe recently told a Swiss friend, according to these Swiss reports, that his emperor's plans were now bent in a direction totally different than those toward which he had looked in the beginning of the war. He believes that the deadlock on the western front is complete, and has finally acknowledged that what his army could not do in 1915 against France it is unlikely to do in 1916.

The sporadic activity making the turn of the year was merely the result of orders he had issued to his generals to test the present strength of the French-British. Nowhere could a weak spot be found—a fact which caused the kaiser no surprise.

As regards the eastern front, plans for a renewed anti-Russian offensive early in the spring have been dropped because, with the dwindling of effectives opposing Russia's swelling manpower, Germany's chances of a decisive triumph are not great enough to justify the carnage a new onslaught against the Muscovites would bring.

London, Jan., 8—Count Okuma, Japanese premier, told interviewers that Germany has made overtures to both Japan and Russia for a separate peace, but that they have been rejected, the Tokyo correspondent of a news agency reportes.

Count Okuma attributed Germany's desire for peace with Japan and Russia to acute financial difficulties.

VIRGINIA IS FOR FOR MONTAGUE

Delegation Will Ask His Appointment to the Supreme Bench

STUART TAKES LEAD

South and Middle West Lay Claim to Vacancy Caused by Justice Lamar's Death.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Virginia will present the name of former Governor Andrew Jackson Montague, now a Representative in Congress from the Richmond district, to President Wilson for appointment to the Lamar vacancy on the Supreme Court of the United States.

This fact became known yesterday when the White House gave out a telegram received from Gov. Henry C. Stuart, of Virginia asking the President to receive a delegation of Virginians in behalf of Governor Montague. As the telegram came late in the evening, no date was set for the Virginians to call, but it is understood a time will be fixed today. So far as can be learned in Washington, Governor Stuart will head the delegation. Other members of it will include Attorney-General John Garland Pollard, Representative Carter Glass, and Wyndham R. Meredith, of Richmond.

William L. Marbury, of Baltimore whose name has been suggested for the judicial honor, it was learned today, has asked his friends not to advance him for the post, Mr. Marbury, it is said desires to indorse Governor Montague.

Every day brings forth a new name for the Supreme Court vacancy No less than a dozen prominent jurists and lawyers have been mentioned for the appointment. President Wilson has not intimated to any of his callers the name of the man he may have in mind to elevate to the high judicial position. While former President Taft is being urged by friends from every section of the country, there is a feeling in Washington that he will not be selected because two-thirds of the court are Republicans. At present there are six Republicans two Democrats and one vacancy on the court.

President Taft declined to appoint men of Republican faith five years ago because of the preponderance of Republicans on the Supreme Bench, late Justice Lamar.He also named the late ustice Lamar. He also named the late Justice Lurton, another Democrat, for the same reason. It was suggested that former President Taft himself had set a precedent against making the Supreme Court top-heavy with men of the same political faith.

The South is active in urging the appointment of a Southern man for the vacancy The Middle West also believes the place should go to that section. The latter claims the South has two men o nthe bench against one from the Middle West—Justice Day, of Ohio, The East has three in Justice Holmes, Hughes, and Pitney, and the Pacific Coast states and the Northwest two in Justices McKenna and Vandeventer. Chief Justice White and Justice McReynolds are credited to the South.

Some of the Middle West Representatives in Congress are backing Chief Justice Winslow, of Minnesota, Senator Martine, of New Jersey, will urge the appointment of Senator James A. O'Gorman. Missouri Democrats have indorsed Judge W. W. Graves, of that state. Senator Newlands, of Nevada is backing Secretary of Interior Lane.

NEW MACHINE AT POST OFFICE

Cancelling Device Can Handle 700 Letter Per Minute

The Alexandria City Post Office has, within the past few days, had installed a new cancelling machine which in every way, far exceeds the one it replaced.

Business people and others who send out heavy mail will be interested to know its capacity, which they will greatly facilitate by arranging letters systematically and bunching them together.

It is capable of running thro seven hundred letters per minute and on one evening between three and eleven o'clock registered eight thousand seven hundred and fourteen.

From a mechanical stand point it is interesting to note that, as it surpasses the old machine in speed and accuracy, so does it in simplicity of construction, and is much easier to operate. Altogether the Postmaster is very fortunate to have secured it, since it had just been sent to the Washington office for trial and is the second one issued.

While it was awaiting the test, the Postmaster made requisition for a new machine with this result and it will, without doubt, add much to the efficiency of the office.

THE FIRE IN DEL RAY.

The fire in Del Ray, on the confines of the present city of Alexandria, early yesterday morning, by which two persons lost their lives, brings to mind the fact that in the recent annexation proceedings this city claimed that its northern limits should extend beyond Lloyd's avenue near where the conflagration took place. The Court of Appeals, however, decided that the city should not cover so large an area, which left the scene of the fire some distance beyond our jurisdiction.

A midnight alarm of fire always causes terror but in mid-winter at four o'clock in the morning when snow is flying, it is still more serious to find the house ablaze with no means of extinguishing the flames. Such was the experience in Del Ray. The new town is in Alexandria county, and few fire hydrants have been, as yet, placed there; hence the Alexandria fire department was unable to render assistance.

Had the city limits been extended to take in that area and as far north as the Poor House as we petitioned, the installation of fire protection in the place would have been one of the first things accomplished. Almost as soon as certain outlying territory was ceded to this city, Council appropriated money to purchase a combination automobile fire and chemical engine for use in the new territory. This apparatus is now ready for use in case of need.

Fortunately there was little, if any wind, early yesterday morning. Had old Boreas been active, as he is often at this season of the year, the fire, which consumed but four houses, might have been even more serious.

It is understood that some criticism has been leveled at the Alexandria authorities for their failure to send an engine to the fire. According to Chief Gronau he received a notification of the fire from the police department early yesterday morning. He said that the advices he received were indefinite and the exact location was not stated. Furthermore he said that he was not informed as to whether there were any water plugs in that section of the county and if a sufficient water pressure could be secured. He therefore felt that the Alexandria engines would be useless. Kenneth W. Ogden, one of Alexandria's most valiant volunteer firemen, responded to the alarm, and Sergeant Wilkinson, in charge of the police station, sent three policemen to the fire, with instructions to do what they could.

Unfortunately the new automobile combination engine had not been turned over to the city else it could have been sent and used with good effect.

It is needless to say that Alexandria is always willing to help its neighbors in the county in case of fire or any other calamity. The Alexandria department has responded to blazes outside of the city limits on many previous occasions and will doubtless continue to do so despite the fact that many residents of Alexandria county testified in the annexation proceedings that they had no need of Alexandria's fire or police protection.

RIOTOUS
STRIKERS.

The papers today contain handbill headlines over accounts of bloody rioting at East Youngstown, Ohio, during which three persons have been killed. Red pepper was thrown into the eyes of the sheriff, who was endeavoring to quell the disturbance, and the aid of the militia had to be invoked. [illegible] men are represented as setting fire to plants and running into all sorts of excesses.

We have no comment to make upon the origin of this serious state of affairs in a nearby state, but surely no right-thinking person will attempt to say anything in extenuation of such proceedings in what we boast of as being the land of the free and the home of the brave.

[illegible] of the United States must deplore such acts. They will not be held responsible for acts of vicious men who wear their insignia.

But it is a repetition of history. Every time conservative people have organized for the purpose of bringing about improved conditions the organization has been captured by the vicious and irresponsible. The scenes in Ohio bring to mind conditions existing in the summer of 1877 when a strike took place among employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The disorderly element among the men ran riot for some time, it being impossible for the well-disposed workmen to tame them. The former believed in guns, pistols, knives and torches. It is so now in Ohio, where the same element are working, not for their betterment, for the destruction of enterprises which furnish them work.

The student of French history often sees a remarkable similarity in modern times to conditions in France when the better element merely desired to bring about improved conditions in the country. They had no desire to murder Louis the Sixteenth nor his queen, Marie Antoinette, in order to accomplish their purpose. But the Girondists, when about to gain their wishes, were thurst aside by the Jacobins, who murdered most of those who had sown the seed of reform and a reign of terror was inaugurated which is a disgrace to history.

RUSSIAN CHRISTMAS.

The subjects of the Czar celebrated the birth of the Prince of Peace Thursday. The Muscovites have ever held on to old Christmas, the 6th of January, and although trees used during this festive season were selling at ten dollars a piece and the bleak winds of winter were blowing over snow drifts, the people entered into the joy of the occasion with an ardor equal to that manifested in times of tranquility. Business was brought to a standstill on Wednesday evening, even street cars in cities having ceased to be operated, and the people gave their undivided attention to the celebration.

There were gaps in many households in consequence of the present war, but this grim fact did not seem to cast its shadows to any great extent.

The Russian bear is redivivus and is sniffing around the haunts of the invaders of its realms. Its paws are being felt by the Teutons who are forced to leave places in which they supposed they would spend the winter. Cities in which the Teutons were ensconced are being evacuated before millions of Muscovites who are as determined as were the Cossacks who harrassed Napoleon nearly a century ago when he was compelled to leave Moscow the capital city, to battle with the snows of winter in which most of his army perished.

RITCHIE'S
SCISSORS.

In the article in this column yesterday on Richmond editors and the career of the "Elk Run Gazette" we inadvertently omitted to state that the scissors used by Thomas Ritchie, of the Richmond Enquirer, were bequeathed by him to the Alexandria Gazette. He was a Gamaliel of the Richmond press in his day, and when he ceased to be a knight of the quill he met Edgar Snowden, Jr., then head of this paper, in the capital city. Being old friends and acquaintances, the Richmonder took from his pocket a small pair of scissors and asked Snowden to accept them as he no longer needed them as an editor. The recipient brought the scissors home with him and used them for years. These necessary adjuncts to the profession later fell into the hands of the writer, who wielded them until they were literally worn out.

The first knowledge anyone had of the accident came with the stopping of the coal elevator, and pieces of the boy's clothing were found. The child was located under the coal, and frantic efforts made to save him; but he died before he could be removed.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Judge Robert R. Prentis, of Suffolk, chairman of the State Corporation Commission, has been named by Governor Stuart to succeed himself as of February 1, 1916.

A score of names are included in gossip in Washington regarding the probable successor in the Supreme Court of the late Justice Lamar. Among them is Representative and former Governor Montague.

James Tanner, a negro, aged fifty-six years, was seriously, if not fatally injured shortly before noon yesterday when his head was crushed between the elevator and the shaft door in the third floor of the Silsby building in Newport News.

Just as his mother left the room yesterday Thomas I. Childress, 18 years old, of South Richmond, fired a bullet into his brain. The young man had been ill with the grip, and later pneumonia set in. It is believed he was delirious when he committed the act.

The police are searching for T. N. Nuchols, Jr., who, posing as the son of a Detroit banker, eloped to Washington on December 29 with Mrs. Estelle Louis Crobarger, cashier of Murphy's Hotel Richmond. Oda Merritt, 17 years old, of Bristol, was arrainged yesterday on a charge of having written letter threatening to kidnap the 3-year-old child of David Emmert, a fruit merchant, if the latter failed to place $500 at a designated spot within a given time. He confessed that he was the author of the letters and said he had been influenced by cheap literature and kidnapping pictures.

WHOLE TOWN TAKES PLEDGE.

Killing of Man by Friend Turns All Against Liquor.

Byers, Kan., Jan. 8.—Led by every business man in town, practically all the residents of Byers have signed the pledge for one year. Not only has everybody promised to stay on the water wagon for the year, but they have taken the pledge not to smoke cigarettes nor chew tobacco. All have promised to renew their pledge at the end of the year.

Byers is a new town, on a new railroad. Until recently conditions have been rather open, much like other new town. But, as the result of the act of a young man killing a friend, the town had a revulsion of sentiment.

Citizens and business men decided it was time to enforce the law against the sale of liquor. A committee was appointed and a pledge-signing campaign started.

Bad Habits

Those who breakfast at eight o'clock or later, lunch at twelve and have dinner at six are almost certain to be troubled with indigestion. They do not allow time for one meal to digest before taking another. Not less than five hours should elapse between meals. If you are troubled with indigestion correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Tablets, and you may reasonably hope for a quick recovery. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.

THROAT CUT WITH RAZOR.

Italian Found Dead in Yard at Security.

Hagerstown, Md. Jan. 8.—With his throat cut from ear to ear, the body of Guiseppe Ventorino, an Italian, who was employed at the plant of the Security Cement and Lime Company, was found yesterday morning lying outside of the boarding house of Tony Cordino, at Security.

Cordino, aged 40 years, suspected of the murder, was brought to jail here.

Guiseppe boarded with Cordino, and the two are said to have had frequent quarrels over Cordino's wife. On Thursday night Guisseppe came to Hagerstown and purchased a revolver He returned to Security and another boarder left him and Cordino in the kitchen downstairs. A fight, it is alleged, started soon afterward,

There was a trail of blood from the body to the rear kitchen door. The dead man also had a gash several inches deep in his cheek.

The Habit of Taking Cold

With many people taking cold is a habit but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get out of bed—not ice cold, but a temperature of about 90 degrees F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will seldom take cold. When you do take cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. Obtainable everywhere.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.
